Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 02 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rather cloudy, although more sunshine in the south for Friday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Mostly cloudy with some drizzle in parts of the east overnight, whilst clear spells are possible in the west and far south with a few mist or fog patches developing.

Friday:
Again, a rather cloudy start for many, with some drizzle in places. Cloud breaking in the south and west to give sunny spells.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Dry and bright for most Saturday, some sunny spells later. Rain spreading to northern areas during Sunday, moving southwards and dying out on Monday, dry with sunny spells elsewhere.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.